

A Flex Line + Card built for all businesses

Revenued is built for all businesses, offering working capital and the ease of a business card. With instant approvals and financing based on your business revenue.

It's Revenued here's how it works...

Flexible Line for when you need it most

Your Revenued Business Card is not a credit card. It accesses a Flex Line not a credit line. The amount of your Flex Line depends on your business performance and grows as your revenue grows. Funding is delivered on a just-in-time basis as card transactions occur.

An excellent funding tool

We encourage you to make informed funding decisions. Receiving capital from Revenued is faster than borrowing and there are no application fees. Because we are purchasing future income and not lending, we are far more likely to say "yes" than a lender.

You're in control

Our online dashboard puts you in control of your spending anytime, anywhere. Easily check your payment calendar and transaction history 24/7. The amount of capital you receive depends on the volume of receivables we buy and the price we pay.

Applying is easy

Apply and receive a funding decision in as little as an hour with our secure online application. You'll receive a login and be able to access your funds within 24 hours.

Real support from real humans

Our 5-star team is here to help. Once approved, you'll receive a dedicated Account Manager to help you make the most of being a Revenued account holder.

Revenue-based financing for your business

Revenue based financing is an investment not a loan. We purchase a portion of your future receivables at a discount in exchange for providing working capital.
